PORT DERBY IS TOP CLASH TODAY

Cockburn and Southern Port-Hamilton warmed-up for their derby clash at Beale Park today with comfortable victories last Sunday.

Cockburn were too strong for Belmont and won 18.13 to 10.12. but the scores don't indicate just how well Belmont played. After allowing Cockburn to jump away to a four goal lead early in the first quarter, Belmont fought their way back into the game and got to within striking distance of Cockburn during the third quarter.

But the experience of Cockburn surfaced in the final term and the Port team cruised away in the closing stages of the game.

Southern Port met solid resistance in their match against Swan Valley. Southern Port trailed by six points at quarter time, but set-up their victory with a superb nine goal second term. Swan Valley failed to kick a goal in that quarter, but fought back with a six goal third term. However the damage had already been done and Southern Port won 18.18 to 12.13.

In the other W.A.F.A. match last week Mosman Park had a twelve goal victory over Midland.

Today's feature match will undoubtedly be the Port Derby at Beale Park. Both Cockburn and Southern Port-Hamilton have been in outstanding form recently and this promises to be a magnificent encounter.

One of the highlights of the match will be the contest between centremen Sam Maskos and Paul Zuvella. Maskos was outstanding last Sunday, but Zuvella has been down on form in recent weeks - but is expected to lift for this important match. Maskos will be the player Southern Port will look for to give them a mid-field ascendancy. But he will need support from ruckman George Mateljan, rover Pat Glynn, centre-half-back Kevin Pausin and ruck-rovers Ron Cox and Len Thorne.

Cockburn, who are currently sitting on third spot on the premiership ladder just one game behind Southern Port, will look to Zuvella, centre-half-back Randall Prowsem, ruckman Tony Gumina and full-forward Roy Koeberl to lay the foundations for victory. Its certain to be a tough encounter, but Southern Port who defeated Cockburn in the first round, may just have the edge today.

Melville, who had a bye last week face Belmont at Melville Reserve. Belmont have shown steady improvement and have been getting good service from ruckman Eddie Hoyer, defender Ken Owens, forward John Dimmer and Captain Coach Steve Bushor has just come back from injury.

But today Melville will be too strong for Belmont. Players of the calibre of Gareth Stewart, Dave Cox and Kevin Regan will give Melville victory.

In the other W.A.F.A match, Swan Valley take on Midland at the Swan Valley Sportsman's Oval. Swan Valley continue to improve with John Carrot-ozzolo in such good form in defence, ruckman Jeff Perich and Tony Malaspina combining so well and the consistent Neil Sumich doing the hard work - Midland face an enormous task to beat Swan Valley today.

BELMONT PANTHERS NEED TO LIFT THEIR GAME

Last weeks games once again started off disappointingly with the reserves side going down again after being quite confident throughout the week. Nothing much can be said about the game except that there were a few good passages in the game, showing the team has got the skill, but have to learn to put it together for the whole game. Also Ginge kicked another pearler of a goal and new player Peter Best put in a good game. Firstly, at centre-half-forward and then in the back-line.

The league once again lost to Cockburn and only had themselves to blame. They had the game within their grasp and by the way they started each quarter it looked like they would go on with it, but once again wasted opportunities in the forward line, loose play in the backline and a lapse of concentration by everyone in the last quarter let Cockburn get a clear break.

Its very evident in both grades that guys are playing like they train, also the team that rains together will be ABLE TO PLAY AS A TEAM IN THE FIELD. Lets get everyone down to training in future and watch the improvement.

Thanks to those people from Cockburn who stayed back for a few drinks and the presentations.

One last thing guys - check the roster for your days on the paper wrap. Its only for about three hours on a Tuesday night and it means money for the club.

BOMBERS SOCIAL SCENE

There will be a "Hundred club Evening" at Napoleons Nite-club on the 13th of June. At the Memorial Hall on the 29th of June a "Crazy Nite" and finally a "Players Trip 'Fund'" evening on the 13th July.

COCKBURN IN TOP GAME

Today our teams play Southern Port-Hamilton. It will be a test of strength and confidence for all three teams.

In the first round Southern Port-Hamilton defeated us in all three grades. Since then however our players have obtained confidence and a winning spirit. The league side is now playing a fast, run-on style of football and in the past few weeks it has seemed that their only real opposition has been their own complacency. Today against strong opposition the side has the chance to show its supporters just how good it is.

The colts have been unlucky in missing many games through forfeits by opposing teams. If they can stay together and not be disheartened by only playing every few weeks, then a premiership is surely there to be taken.

As predicted a couple of weeks ago the reserves have now hit their straps and they are starting to steam-roll opposition teams. Their ultimate test comes in the next few weeks as they meet stronger teams. With the talent and desire to win that is now in the team, all our supporters hope to be able to watch them beat the top teams in the competition.

Last week in the league game Alan Miles relished a change of position. He played the defenders game with great spirit and dash, which made him our teams outstanding player. Alan was closely followed by Randall Prowse and Roy Koeberl. Randall initially played well at centre-half-back and later in the game dominated the play with sprints into the forward-line, which broke up the opposition's defence. Roy Koeberl kicked seven goals in another fine display of forward work. A feature was the co-operation between himself and centre-half-forward, Trevor Brickhill.

In the reserves game Stanley Kickett gave all spectators a treat when he displayed all round ball skills, which made him best on the ground. Stanley was well supported by Stewart Johnston, Sam Perica and Jim Gallagher, who also stood out as a good player on the day. Stewart Johnston in particular has shown that last year his talent was surely wasted when he only acted as runner. His reading of the play and his willingness to put his body behind the ball are outstanding features of his play.

Today we invite all players and supporters of the Southern Port-Hamilton Football Club to join us in drinks after the games in our licenced premises.

'Three teams in the four in 84'.

EAGLE EYE.

SWAN VALLEY LOOK TO WIN

Today we meet Midland in the local derby. Things are looking better for Swan Valley. Last week we saw the reserves go down again, but not without an effort. It was pleasing to see them put some good passages of play together. Keep at it boys- and things will start to come our way.

Nicky Bruce was in good form again as was Carrot and it was good to see the following players in; Savior Wright, Lance Thomas, Paul Reinholsten, Len Katich, Mick Bracknell and Andy Jaechki, picking up kicks and contributing more and more each game.

Our league team were certainly not disgraced and in a nut-shell we lost it in the second quarter. Some deep soul searching at half-time saw the lads come out in the third term and play the sort of football we all know they are capable of. In the final quarter we again saw our lads play well, but the gap was just too far to bridge. It was however a good team effort and one in which I'm sure will see the players showing more confidence in each others ability.

It was good to see players like Peter Netherway, Tony Malapina strike form and others to play well were Greg Johnson, Neil Sumich, Geoff Perich, Doug Pendlebury, Angie Daniele and John Carrots.

In today's game both teams must put together a solid four quarters. We cannot afford to continue to give teams a head start and expect to win.
